DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2,5-10,13-18,and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 8-262751. JP "751" teaches an electrophotographic photoreceptor comprising an electrically conductive substrate and a charge generation layer and a charge transport layer. The charge transport layer comprises 65 wt % of a polyester resin represented by the formula disclosed in paragraph 0037 and 35 wt % of a charge transport compound, based on the total weight of the charge transport layer. The polyester resin represented by the formula disclosed in paragraph 0037 is within the polyester resin compositional limitation recited in instant claims 2, 10, and 18. The amount of charge transport is within the range recited in claims 5, 13 and 21. The use of the photoreceptor is within an apparatus note 0003 and 0034. The layered photoreceptor can have an undercoat note 0024. As the binder resin is the same it would have the same physical properties i.e. oxygen gas permeation coefficient. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicants' invention with a reasonable expectation of success to provide the same physical properties to the polyester as taught and to use the polyester in an electrophotographic photoreceptor in an apparatus and cartridge

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claims 1-24 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-18 of copending Application No. 10/459720. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: As the electrophotographic photoreceptor has the same composition it would have the same physical properties.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

5. Claims 1-24 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-11 of copending Application No. 10/606147. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: As the electrophotographic photoreceptor has the same composition it would have the same physical properties.

6. Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

7. Claims 1-24 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-25 of copending Application No. 10/453517. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: As the electrophotographic photoreceptor has the same composition it would have the same physical properties.

8. Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

9. Claims 1-24 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-15 of U. S. Patent No. 6,884,559 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: As the electrophotographic photoreceptor has the same composition it would have the same physical properties.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application, which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
